

WCIG Disability

Employment, education and training programs for people with disability

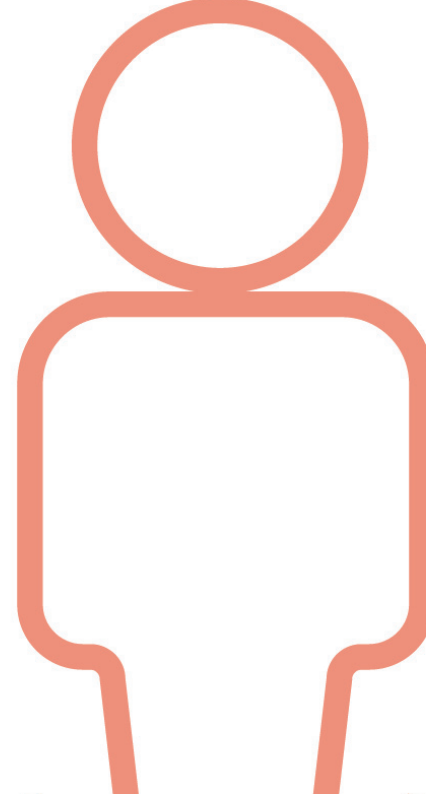

www.wcig.org.au

We are passionate about inclusion, accessibility and the potential of people with disability.

Our services engage people living with disability who are looking for employment, support reaching personal goals, managing daily living tasks and seeking assistance engaging with their community.

NDIS Supports

WCIG provides various NDIS supports; including Employment and Education Transition, Support Coordination, Cleaning and Home Maintenance, and Social, Recreational, Community and Life Skills.

Our supports are designed to assist individuals to build their capacity and skills toward increased independence and autonomy while also focusing on social and community participation.

Do you have an NDIS plan?

To access NDIS supports, individuals must contact the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) to complete a plan. Contact us to find out more.

Disability Employment Services

Our Disability Employment Services assist people who live with an illness, injury or disability to prepare for, find and keep a meaningful job.

At WCIG we work with you to tailor a plan and set achievable career goals. Assistance can include:

- Resume and cover letter writing
- Interview techniques and training
- Use of onsite computers for job searching
- Help with travel to or from a job interview or new workplace
- Appropriate clothing for work and/or other work related equipment
- Workplace modifications
- Regular on the job support
- Links to education and training

Disability Awareness Training

Disability Awareness Training is a short course about creating a welcoming, inclusive and friendly community for all abilities.

With over 20% of the Australian population living with a disability, disability awareness is vital.

Disability Awareness is available as both a face to face 3 hour interactive workshop and as an e-learn course.

National Panel of Assessors

We provide assessments in the workplace for people with disability who require support to remain employed.

For more information about these assessments, contact us.
