

WCIG Disability - NDIS

Employment & Education Transition

Are you finishing school, looking for work or new skills?

Our employment and education transition supports provide one-on-one and group support to people to access further education and to prepare for and find work in line with individual goals.

What does education and employment transition mean?

School Leaver Employment Support

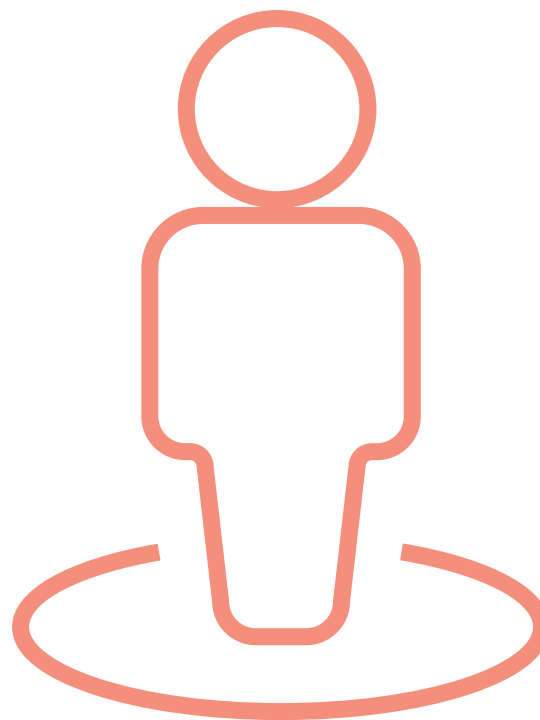

(SLES). SLES is an NDIS support designed to provide one-on-one and group support to young people about to graduate from school to prepare for and find work

Finding and Keeping a Job is an NDIS support designed to provide one-on-one and group support to people wishing to prepare for and find work

Assistance to access and maintain employment or education. This support focuses on your access to employment and education opportunities. In line with your NDIS plan, we assist you to build your skills to gain employment or to transition through school to further education

We can support you to meet your goal of employment or further education by:

- Activities to identify interests
- Learning how to cope with a work environment
- Supported work experience in an industry of your choice
- Learning how to confidently use public transport
- Resume writing
- Personal presentation
- Personal and social development
- Employment preparation and interview skills
